This exhibit provides an analysis of consistency with the California Coastal Act for topics addressed by the proposed Local Coastal Program (“LCP”) amendments to the County of Ventura’s (“County”) regulations governing transitional and supportive housing, residential care facilities serving six or fewer, density bonuses, and reasonable accommodations. Collectively, the proposed LCP amendments revise Articles 1, 2, 4, 5, and 11 of the Ventura County Ordinance Code, Coastal Zoning Ordinance (“CZO”). The proposed LCP amendments are attached as Exhibit A and referred to below as the “Proposed CZO Amendments.”

The California Coastal Act requires that local governments create LCPs (consisting of land use plans and implementing ordinances) to carry out the policies of the Coastal Act at the local level. Once an LCP is certified by the California Coastal Commission (“Coastal Commission”), responsibility for issuance of most coastal development permits is delegated to the local government.

Land use development within the County’s unincorporated coastal zone is governed by the County’s Coastal Area Plan (“CAP”), the CZO,¹ and two adopted Categorical Exclusion Orders (“Order E-83-1” and amendment “E-83-1A”). The CAP is the County’s coastal area land use plan addressing the type, location, and intensity of land uses, applicable resource protection and development policies and, where necessary, a listing of implementing actions. In order to ensure that policies in the CAP are interpreted in a manner consistent with the Coastal Act, the policies of the Coastal Act (Sections 30200 through 30265.5) have been incorporated by reference as policies of the CAP. The CAP was certified by the Coastal Commission in June 1982.

In order to realize the broad objectives and policies outlined within the CAP, the CZO contains standards that control the form and function of future development. It includes more detailed zoning or implementing ordinances designed to carry out the policies of the CAP and was certified by the Coastal Commission in 1983. The Categorical Exclusion Orders are independent documents adopted by the Coastal Commission in accordance with section 30610(e) of the Coastal Act. Ventura County’s Categorical Exclusion Order E-83-1 became effective in September 1986 and was amended once (E-83-1A) in May 1987.

The Proposed CZO Amendments implement commitments the County made in its housing element for the 2021-2029 planning period (“Housing Element”), which was certified by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (“HCD”) on December 22, 2021. Specifically, the Proposed CZO Amendments implement Housing Element Programs

¹ Collectively, the CAP and CZO constitute the County’s LCP. See County of Ventura Local Coastal Program, available at: <https://vcrma.org/en/local-coastal-program>

HE-M (Density Bonus Ordinance Updates) and HE-N (Zoning Code Amendments for Special Needs Housing) by amending the CZO as follows:

- Density Bonus. Propose adding a new section, Section 8175-6, to Article 5 (Development Standards/Conditions – Uses) that incorporates state density bonus law by reference. The new section also includes guidance for County staff on how to implement state density bonus law in the coastal zone—by requiring any requested density bonus, incentive/concession, waiver or reduction in development standards to be consistent with the County’s certified LCP for the protection of coastal resources.²
- Transitional and Supportive Housing. Propose amending Article 2 (Definitions) to add new definitions for transitional housing and supportive housing that match the state law definitions for these terms (provided in Gov. Code, § 65582(j) and Gov. Code, § 65582(g), respectively).³ Additionally, a new section 8175-5.22 is proposed to be added to Article 5 (Development Standards/Conditions – Uses) and specifies that: (i) transitional housing and supportive housing are considered a residential use of property and are subject to those restrictions that apply to other residential dwellings of the same type in the same zone (as required by Gov. Code, § 65583(c)(3)); and (ii) supportive housing that complies with the requirements of Gov. Code section 65650 et seq. (set forth in Section 8175-5.22.3.1) is considered a use by right in all zones where multifamily and mixed-uses are permitted, including nonresidential zones permitting multifamily uses⁴. These amendments also revise the land use matrix provided in Section 8174-5 (Permitted Uses by Zone) to add a new use for transitional and supportive housing and direct readers to Section 8175-5.22.
- Residential Care Facilities Serving Six or Fewer. Propose amending Article 2 (Definitions) to revise the definition for “residential care facility” to more closely track state law.⁵ Additionally, a new Section 8175-5.23 is added to Article 5 (Development Standards/Conditions – Uses), which provides that residential care facilities serving six or fewer will be regulated in the same manner as residential use of property subject only to those restrictions that apply to other family dwellings of the same type in the same zone, as required by state law. (See e.g., Health and Safety Code, §§ 1566.3, 1568.0831, 11834.23). Finally, the land use matrix in Section 8174-5 is amended to regulate residential care facilities serving six or fewer in accordance with Section 8175-5.23.

² The density bonus-related amendments also revise Section 8171-16 (Rounding of Quantities) of Article 1 (Authority, Purpose and Application of Chapter) to ensure calculations under Section 8175-6 are rounded in accordance with state density bonus law (i.e., Gov. Code, § 65915).

- Reasonable Accommodations. Propose making targeted amendments to Section 8181-14 (Reasonable Accommodations) to comply with state law. In relevant part, this includes amending: (i) Section 8181-14.2 to allow individuals to submit a request orally or in writing (see 2 C.C.R., § 12176(f)(3)); (ii) Section 8181-14.2 to specify that in instances where the County is unable to immediately grant the requested accommodation, the County will engage in an “iterative and interactive” process with the disabled individual (or their representative)(see 2 C.C.R., § 12177(a)); and (iii) Section 8181-14.4 to align the criteria that the County will consider when evaluating a request to align with state law (see 2 C.C.R., § 12176(a)-(c).)

The Coastal Commission must certify the proposed LCP amendments if, as set forth in Coastal Act sections 30512 through 30513, the amendments are in conformance with Coastal Act policies and the amendments are adequate to carry out the provisions of the CAP.⁶ The Coastal Commission also must make related findings for certification as set forth in the California Code of Regulations, title 14, section 13540. Based on the evaluations conducted for these subject areas, as presented in the below Coastal Act Consistency Table, the Planning Division found that all findings can be made for the Proposed CZO Amendments.

⁶ The Coastal Act also requires the Coastal Commission to encourage affordable housing and recognizes its importance. (Public Resources Code, § 30604(f), (g).) Encouraging affordable housing in the coastal zone also more broadly facilitates increased public access to the coast. (See e.g., Public Resources Code, §§ 30001.5(c), 30210.)

Subject: Public Access & Recreation
PRC Section 30210 Access; recreational opportunities; posting In carrying out the requirement of Section 4 of Article X of the California Constitution, maximum access, which shall be conspicuously posted, and recreational opportunities shall be provided for all the people consistent with public safety needs and the need to protect public rights, rights of private property owners, and natural resource areas from overuse.	Consistent. Regarding density bonuses, the Proposed CZO Amendments preserve and protect public access and recreational opportunities because they require any density bonus, incentive or concession, waiver or reduction in development standards to be consistent with the County's certified LCP policies for the protection of coastal resources (which, among other things, the CZO, defines to include public access facilities and opportunities as well as recreational areas and opportunities [see Section 8172-1, Definitions, at "Coastal Resources"]). The Proposed CZO Amendments regarding transitional and supportive housing include minor text amendments to define these uses in accordance with state law, subject these uses to the same restrictions that apply to other residential dwelling uses of the same type and in the same zone, and allow certain supportive housing units by right in accordance with Government Code section 65650 et seq. The residential care facilities amendments for facilities serving six or fewer likewise update the CZO to treat this use as the County is already required to under state law (i.e., as a residential use). None of these amendments change or in any way alter the LCP's protection measures for public access and recreational opportunities. As for reasonable accommodations, the Proposed CZO Amendments update the County's procedures to comply with state law. While qualified disabled individuals can obtain relief from the County's residential development
PRC Section 30211 Development not to interfere with access Development shall not interfere with the public's right of access to the sea where acquired through use or legislative authorization, including, but not limited to, the use of dry sand and rocky coastal beaches to the first line of terrestrial vegetation.
PRC Section 30212 New Development Projects; provision for access; exceptions (a) Public access from the nearest public roadway to the shoreline and along the coast shall be provided in new development projects except where: (1) it is inconsistent with public safety, military security needs, or the protection of fragile coastal resources, (2) adequate access exists nearby, or, (3) agriculture would be adversely affected. Dedicated accessway shall not be required to be opened to public use until a public agency or private association agrees to accept responsibility for maintenance and liability of the accessway. (b) For purposes of this section, "new development" does not include: (1) Replacement of any structure pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (g) of Section 30610. (2) The demolition and reconstruction of a single-family residence; provided, that the reconstructed residence shall not exceed either the floor area, height or bulk of the former structure by more than 10%, and that the reconstructed residence shall be sited in the same location on the affected property as the former structure.

(3) Improvements to any structure which do not change the intensity of its use, which do not increase either the floor area, height, or bulk of the structure by more than 10%, which do not block or impede public access, and which do not result in a seaward encroachment by the structure. (4) The reconstruction or repair of any seawall; provided, however, that the reconstructed or repaired seawall is not a seaward of the location of the former structure. (5) Any repair or maintenance activity for which the commission has determined, pursuant to Section 30610, that a coastal development permit will be required unless the commission determines that the activity will have an adverse impact on lateral public access along the beach. As used in this subdivision "bulk" means total interior cubic volume as measured from the exterior surface of the structure. (c) Nothing in this division shall restrict public access nor shall it excuse the performance of duties and responsibilities of public agencies which are required by Sections 66478.1 to 66478.14, inclusive, of the Government Code and by Section 4 of Article X of the California Constitution.	standards, a requested accommodation cannot require a fundamental alteration in any County program, policy, practice, or ordinance, including the LCP. Consequently, reasonable accommodations will not fundamentally change or alter the LCP's protection measures for public access and recreational opportunities.
PRC Section 30220 Protection of certain water-oriented activities Coastal areas suited for water-oriented recreational activities that cannot readily be provided at inland water areas shall be protected for such uses.
PRC Section 30222 Private lands; priority of development purposes The use of private lands suitable for visitor-serving commercial recreational facilities designed to enhance public opportunities for coastal recreation shall have priority over private residential, general industrial, or general commercial development, but not over agriculture or coastal-dependent industry.
PRC Section 30223 Upland areas Upland areas necessary to support coastal recreational uses shall be reserved for such uses, where feasible.

CAP Access Policy for General Access (All Subareas) In accordance with section 30214(a) of the Coastal Act, the time, place, and manner of access will depend on individual facts and circumstances; including topographic and site characteristics, the capacity of the site to sustain use at the intensity proposed, management of the access areas to protect the privacy of adjacent owners, and the feasibility to provide for litter collection.
CAP Access Policy for General Access (All Subareas) In accordance with section 30214(b) of the Coastal Act, the requirement of access shall be reasonable and equitable, balancing the rights of the individual property owner with the public's right of access.
Subject: Marine & Biological Resources
PRC Section 30230 Marine resources; maintenance Marine resources shall be maintained, enhanced, and where feasible, restored. Special protection shall be given to areas and species of special biological or economic significance. Uses of the marine environment shall be carried out in a manner that will sustain the biological productivity of coastal waters and that will maintain healthy populations of all species of marine organisms adequate for long-term commercial, recreational, scientific, and educational purposes.	Consistent.
